HOW TO USE THIS COURSE

1. Click on the pink box above. It is hyperlinked to take you to the course materials folder.
2. Begin with the folder 1. How to Pull Up Your Chart. In the video, you will be shown how to pull up your chart and find your rising/ascendant sign. At this time, via astro.com, you will enter your birth date, time, and location information.
3. Next, go to your rising sign folder to find recordings for your sign. You can follow along with your chart to see the upcoming transits and the areas of your life that will be impacted by them.
4. I recommend listening to your rising sign recordings, with the option of listening to your sun sign recordings for additional information (i.e., if your sun sign is in Aries, you can listen to Aries Rising). You can keep coming back to the Times to Work With decks throughout the month to guide you.
5. You can stream the videos with an internet connection via Dropbox. If you find that the sound quality skips, please download the recording before viewing, using the “Download” button in the top right corner of Dropbox. I recommend using a laptop or computer, rather than a mobile device.
6. Questions about specifics? Feel free to ask them in the comments section to the right of the video on Dropbox!

FAQ: WHAT ARE ASPECTS?

Conjunction: (0°-29° degrees – e.g. Mars and another planet both in the 3rd house)

Sextile (60 degrees – e.g. 1st house to 3rd house)

Square (90 degrees - e.g. 1st house to 4th house)

Trine (120 degrees – e.g. 1st house to 5th house)

Aspects won't all make sense right away.

I encourage you to research aspects on your own and to remember that often the most important discoveries about your chart will be done by you as you continue to investigate how these combinations show up in your life and through your relationship to yourself.
